A fresh law graduate is always apprehensive about his future; he is unsure about how and where to start and this could result in a lack of confidence and also could put him at a lower platform than others.

The Finishing school aims to give you answers to all these questions.

“Where Tradition meets tomorrow” – We, at the finishing school aims to provide those finer points of a social life which is quintessential for every lawyer in the present age, keeping in mind both the Indian and Foreign traditions in mind, from how to give a hand shake to how to speak on the phone and how to maintain an confident posture as well as how to speak fluently and effectively in public.

The guidance doesn't just stop there as we go one step further to ensure that the skills that you have learned at your institution are honed and perfected so that as you enter your profession, we would have polished you in every sense possible, making you aware of all those Do's and Don'ts (P's and Q's) that are to be kept in mind while in a social group or in any other gathering

The course would also include creating awareness about

- Importance of Time Management
- Positive Thinking
- Leadership skills
- Career Planning and Goal Setting
- Self Analysis

The main emphasis on the course would be to develop the soft skills of a person more so with regard to the legal practice followed in India but with an eye on the ever developing global scenario.

The goal of this institute is to make every law graduate aware of the immense possibilities available which would be accessible if you are better than rest, that means you are more skilled than others in every avenue of life be it the board room, court room or the ball room, WE MAKE YOU READY.

Our Area of Expertise

- Etiquette and Manners

Intensive guidance provided for raising awareness on how to conduct in a social or an official gathering and the rules to be followed in a formal gathering.

These include the Protocols to be followed, Table Etiquette and Telephone Etiquette.

- The Art of Entertaining

To make you seem approachable and appealing so that the chasm between the client and the lawyer is quickly bridged, allowing the client to open-up and speak more freely.

- Improving Communication Skills – Public Speaking, Non verbal Communication.

Speech and body language are considered as the most important factors that enhance ones personality.

The more clearly you speak the more confidence you instill in your client. We stress on clarity of thought and speech.

Non verbal Communication – This is what is called as “Body Language”. The way a person presents himself is very important, since the way you behave and appear always goes a long way in impressing your client

- Being self sufficient in key areas related to Legal Practice

A Lawyer has to be self sufficient – We aim to make a lawyer independent of his personnel’s.

We also understand that a fresher lacks experience in drafting a strong case and so, we at the finishing school would provide assistance to further your drafting capabilities so that they are at par with the best in the business.
